Department of Information Systems

ICT Innovator Course

Kobe Institute of Computing
Graduate School of Information Technology

I. Admission Policy

The Goal of Education

KIC- Kobe Institute of Computing, Graduate School of Information Technology aims to develop "advanced ICT personnel equipped with strong human abilities." In KIC, students will acquire the following abilities:

- Basic and applied knowledge and expertise of ICT
- Perspective and understanding of social issues
- "TANKYU Practice," practical method to solve issues with ICT

Ideal Personnel Pursued

KIC accepts a wide range of highly motivated people to learn and solve social issues using ICT. Both new graduates and those who have working experience are welcome.

As classes in the ICT Innovator Course are conducted in English, TOEFL iBT Test 80 points or equivalent is required to prove English proficiency,

II. Enrollment Capacity

The enrollment capacity for the Department of Information Systems is 55 students per academic year.

III. Admission date

IX. Announcement of Entrance Examination Result

(1) Announcement of Entrance Examination Result

Applicants will receive a notification of results via email. Applicant should contact the KIC office if he/she doesn't get that after three days from the designated date.

The KIC office will not respond to any inquiries regarding the examination results made by phone, email, or other means.

(2) Tuition Exemption and Scholarships for self-funded students

We have prepared Tuition Exemption for self-funded students. Those who are interested should submit the application.

We will introduce various scholarships for self-funded students after enrollment, so please be aware of the office's guidance. As recipients are competitively selected for many scholarships, please understand applicants who need to have good grades after admission.

(3) Requirements for Laptops and Network Communication

All students must have a laptop and Internet access for class works and research activities at graduate school.

1 Hardware Specifications for Laptops

- Tablet devices (devices that can only be used as tablets) and Chromebooks do not meet the requirements, so these devices are not suitable for academic work at graduate school.
- OS released within the last three years is recommended.
<Recommended OS: Windows 10 or 11 (Windows 10 S mode is not supported.)
<Allowed OS> Mac OS (released within the last three years)
<The following OS types may not work with the available software or system on Windows OS or Mac OS>Linux-Ubuntu 18.04 or the later version of it or CentOS 8 in the later desktop version.
- CPU: The hardware requirements for the processing power varies depending on the individual research works. Students need to access online classes at a minimum level, which requires the processing power to upload and download large amounts of data at high speed.

- Network: Wireless LAN (802.11a/g/n) is required to use the network on campus. Either internal or external LAN is allowed
- Connection to Display: HDMI is recommended for on-campus presentations.
- Input/output: a web camera, microphone, and speaker (Internal or External) are required.
- There are no requirements other than the above.

2 Network environment for Off-campus

To attend classes and laboratory meetings online, complete course registration procedures, receive lecture materials and submit assignments, conduct research, surveys, and system development, you must have the right network environment at home and other off-campus locations. It would be best if you had a broadband connection that allows you to send and receive large amounts of information at high speed (either a fixed line such as an optical line or a wireless line with no limit on transmission capacity - 4G/5G).

3 The following items will be provided free of charge for KIC students.

- Wireless Network Lan in the facility at graduate school
- Microsoft Office 365 (Educational License)

X. Privacy Protection

All personal information obtained by KIC through processing the application and Examination of the applicants shall be handled following the Japanese 'Law on Protection of Private Information by Government Agencies etc.' and 'Procedures for Protecting Private Information' established by KIC. The information may be used only for the evaluation of the application and educational purpose.
